HIGH COURT,
English Department,
CIVIL,
The 5th December 1922.

RULES.

Insert the following after Rule 43, at page 71, Chapter II, Volume I, of the Court's General Rules and Circular Orders, Civil:—

"Rules framed by the High Court under section 50 of the Guardians and Wards Act, 1890 (VIII of 1890), for the guidance of guardians ad-litem of minor defendants and minor respondents."

I.—ORIGINAL SUITS.

43A. (1) Where there are both major and minor defendants and there is no appearance, the guardian should communicate with the natural guardian of the minor as well as with the major defendants by registered reply post-card in which the subject-matter of the suit should be briefly stated.

(2) Where the sole defendant is a minor, the aforesaid communication should be addressed to his natural guardian.

(3) If no response is received to the communication mentioned in sub-rules (1) and (2) or if the response is not helpful and the guardian is unable to have a personal interview with the defendants or their agents, he should report the fact to the court with a statement of the circumstances and apply for leave to go to the locality for necessary enquiry.

(4) The guardian's report on such local enquiry, if permitted, should contain the following particulars:—

(a) Date and hour of departure for the locality.

(b) Mode of journey, viz., whether by rail or steamer or boat or road.

(c) Date and hour of reaching the locality.

(d) The names of persons who identify the minor.

(e) Age of the minor as stated by the minor's people and as estimated by the guardian.

(f) The names and residences of persons in whose presence the enquiry is held.

(g) Whether the minor has any defence.

(h) If there is defence what is the nature of it and what benefit is expected to accrue to the minor out of the defence.

(i) Whether the minor or his people are able and prepared to meet the costs of the defence, and, if not, what is the probable amount of such costs.

(j) If no defence is filed, the reasons thereof together with the statements of the persons on whose report the decision is arrived at.

(5) In case the court refuses to grant leave for local enquiry, the guardian will proceed according to the instructions of the court given in each case.

(6) Where in response to the communication mentioned in sub-rule (2) or otherwise, the minor or his natural guardian, or any other persons on his behalf, come and see the guardian, his subsequent proceedings and report should conform as far as applicable to sub-rule (4) (g) to (j).

(7) The guardian's report mentioned in sub-rules (4) and (6) may contain such other facts as he may think necessary to bring to the notice of the court.

(8) In petty rent suits and money suits the court shall exercise stricter vigilance before granting leave to the guardian ad-litem to go to the locality for enquiry.

II.—APPEALS.

(9) The foregoing rules will apply mutatis mutandis to the guardians of minor respondents subject to the following rules.

(10) If no response is made to the registered post-card mentioned in sub-rule (1), he should, before applying for leave to go to the locality, similarly communicate with the pleader who conducted the case in the lower court on behalf of the minor or his predecessor-in-interest, and ascertain from him if possible the probable cause of the non-appearance of the minor, reporting the result to the court.

(11) If the step taken under the last preceding sub-rule does not elicit any satisfactory results, the guardian should consult the record and submit a report to the court in which he should state whether in his opinion the judgment and decree of the lower court can be supported and if such opinion is in the affirmative, why he should not argue the case himself before the court. A written note on the merits of the case should accompany the report.

(12) An amount estimated to cover the actual travelling and halting expenses of the guardian, not exceeding the scale laid down by Rule 43 B, will be required by the court to be deposited by the party at whose instance the guardian is appointed before an order is passed for a local enquiry mentioned in sub-rule (3). The amount so deposited or so much of it as may be found due will be paid out to the guardian when he has submitted his report mentioned in sub-rule (4).

1. No carbide of calcium shall be kept at any place, with or without a licence unless it is "commercially pure," i.e., unless it contains no impurities liable to generate phosphoretted or siliciuretted hydrogen so as to render the gas evolved liable to ignite spontaneously.

Conditions of posession and sale without license.

2. No license shall be required for the possession of carbide of calcium (i) in any quantity not exceeding five pounds if it is kept in separate vessels, such containing not more than one pound, of the nature described in, and labelled as required by, rule 1 of Part V; (ii) in any quantity exceeding five and not exceeding twenty-eight pounds where the following conditions are observed and the vessels containing it are labelled as required by rule 1 of Part V:—

(a) the carbide shall be kept only in metal vessels hermetically closed at all times when the carbide is not actually being placed in or withdrawn from such vessels;

(b) the vessels containing carbide shall be kept in a dry and well ventilated place;

(c) due precautions shall be taken to prevent unauthorized person from having access to the carbide;

(d) notice shall be given of such keeping to the licensing authority referred to in rule 8 of this Part, and free access shall be afforded to any duly authorized inspector to inspect the portion of the premises where the carbide is kept and the generator, if any, is situated.

Where a fixed generator is used on the premises:—

(e) full and detailed instructions as to the care and use of the generator shall be kept constantly posted up in such place as to be conveniently referred to by the generator attendant.

Where it is desired to keep a greater quantity or where the above conditions cannot be complied with, application must be made to the licensing authority for a license.

Licenses for possession.

3. Carbide of calcium in any quantity exceeding twenty-eight pounds may be kept only under a license to possess carbide of calcium granted under these rules. Every application for such a license shall be in form A in the schedule, and where the applicant proposes to engage in the manufacture of acetylene gas, the generating apparatus to be used by the licensee must, if manufactured in British India, have been examined by such competent authority as the Local Government or Administration of the province of manufacture may from time to time specially authorize in this behalf, and certified by it to be suitable; or, if imported, must either have been so examined and certified, or be of a type approved by the Committee on Acetylene Generators appointed by the Department of His Majesty's Inspector of Explosives, London.

Storage of carbide of calcium.

4. Notwithstanding anything contained in rule 3 of this Part, carbide of calcium may, with the special permission of the Local Government, and on such conditions as may be fixed by it, be stored without a license in premises provided for the purpose.

7. Carbide of calcium shall be stored only on racks or trestles standing at least one foot above the level of the ground, and no articles of an inflammable or combustible nature shall be kept in the same building.

7A. If any carbide of calcium becomes wetted while being stored it shall be destroyed by immersion in deep water under instructions from the licensing authority. If, however, deep water is not available, the wet carbide of calcium shall be spread out in the open in an isolated position, all precautions being taken to prevent lights being brought near until the material has given off all its gas.

NOTE.—The fact of carbide of calcium having become wet will be indicated by the outward appearance of the drum, and probably by a disagreeable odour showing a leakage of gas.
